MESSAGE

On this auspicious occasion of the 4th Convocation of Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University for Women, I congratulate all the graduating students and wish them good luck towards a prosperous future.

In this new era, when technological advancements are rapidly changing the world view, it is heartening to know that the first technical university for women is providing qualified professionals in diverse fields like Engineering, Sciences, Architecture and Humanities. It is, indeed, a matter of proud for everyone to witness young technocrats proceedings towards success as proficient Engineers and Managers.

The graduating students should appreciate that the University has laid a solid foundation for their successful professional career. I am sure that the students will understand the present day global requirements and embark their journey to be skilled entrepreneurs. The creative ideas of brilliant young technocrats will definitely benefit nation. The convocation ceremony is organized to bestow trained batch of students in the service of the nation. I believe that women graduates of this University will immensely contribute in the nation development with critical thinking and innovative ideas.

I, once again, bless all the young graduates and wish them success in their all future endeavours.
